Designed with you in mind

Confidence. It can be gained or lost in an instant. It's imperative in healthcare where decisions can change the course of a life. To make those decisions confidently, you need tools you can depend on. System 7 from Stryker was designed to address the specific needs of your operating room — so you can achieve more, on behalf of your facility and your patients.

Research

System 7 didn't start with us. It started with you: the people working in healthcare facilities, making tough decisions, saving and improving lives. We spent countless hours, and traveled thousands of miles, to discover exactly what you wanted from the next generation of surgical heavy duty power tools — and we listened to every word. The result is an innovative system that meets your demands for quality and reliability.

Development

System 7 has your feedback built in. Every detail has a purpose: to make System 7 the most dependable and highest performing heavy duty power tool system we've ever made.

So you can have the confidence it takes to provide the best care possible.
